

IrfanView

IrfanView is a FREE basic graphics program.

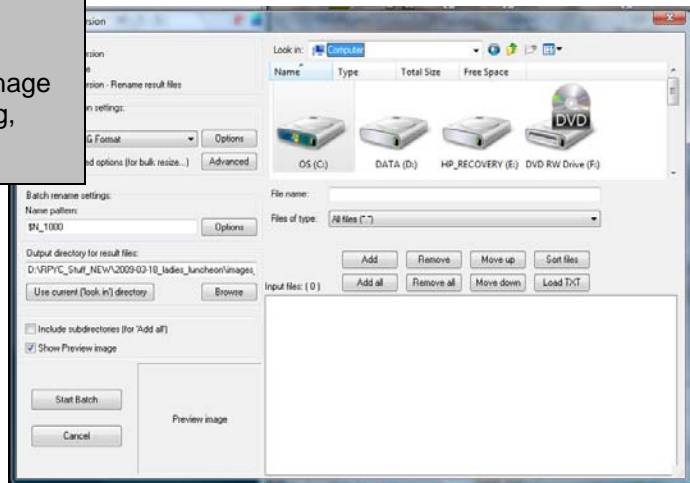

IrfanView has the following features:

- displays a wide range of graphic formats.
- saves a wide range of graphic formats - IrfanView is therefore good for converting images between formats.
- displays folders of images as slideshows.
- displays images from an editable list as a slideshow - latest version (3.75) saves slideshow as a freestanding executable show - very quick to create from a folder of images.
- rescale images - enlarge or reduce images.
- rotate images.
- lighten, darken, adjust contrast of images.
- use some special effects.

While IrfanView does not have all the features of the major graphics packages, it has got what most people need to manage graphic files prior to including them on a Webpage, E-mailing, etc.

IrfanView is a simple little 'free' program that I use to quickly change the size of photos to a size that I can E-mail easily and fast .. and I use the program to resize the photos that I put on the Website .. it is easy to use .. below are a few basic steps to download and setup the program

- download the free photo processing software titled IrfanView
- <http://www.irfanview.com/> ..
- once you have the program open then 'click' on "File" select "Batch Conversions" ..
- the image below is off my PC ..

Batch Conversions

- To get started open 'File' then 'Batch Conversion/Rename' and select your images/photos
- use "Add" to select the pictures you want to convert
- you can select one or more images / photos

Next select the folder where you want the resized pictures to go ..

- ie "Output Directory" ..
- then select "Advanced Options" see below ..

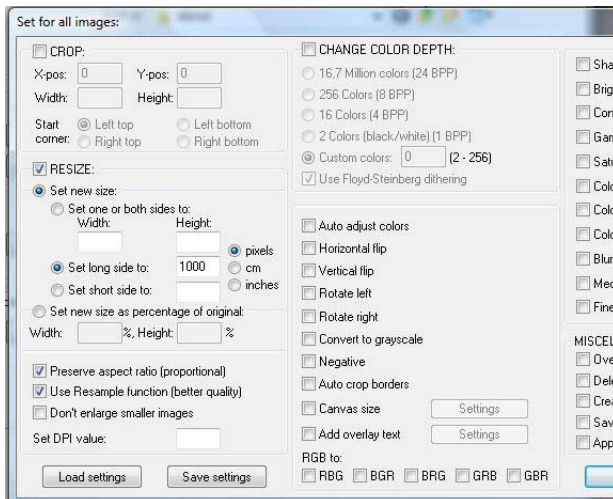

Set Advanced Options

Check the Resize box

- then enter 1000 ..((or what size that you would like to use)) for the width then select "pixels"
- then check the boxes "Aspect Ratio" and Resample function .. and click 'OK'

Click on 'Set rename options'

- and type in the box $N_1000 etc and click OK

.. I am sure that you will have to play around a little with the above settings but once they are set it is FAST !! .. let me know if you have any questions
